

The main content of the slide is contained within a dark grey rounded rectangle that mimics a window interface. In the top right corner of this rectangle, there are three small colored circles (pink, blue, and yellow) representing window control buttons. The bottom right corner of the rectangle has a folded paper effect.

A screenshot of the #edpwellness website. The top navigation bar includes 'Home', 'Emotions Management', 'Stress Management', 'Holidays', and 'Feedback'. The main heading is 'Welcome' in red. Below it is a 3D avatar of a woman with black hair and a smiling expression. To the right of the avatar, the text reads 'Hello there!' followed by a message from Miss Clara, the school counsellor, and a list of resources available on the site.

Welcome

Hello there!

A shoutout to all parents whose children are studying in Endeavour Primary School! I'm Miss Clara, the school counsellor here. Parents, I have specially set up #edpwellness for you.

Here at #edpwellness, there will be a whole range of resources on children's emotional well-being. You can look forward to resources and information being shared regularly.
